HERO FUNSTON IS REWARDED.

The Kansas Cyclone Is Made a Brigadier General by the President.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The President has appointed Colonel Frederick Funston of the Twentieth Kansas a Brigadier-General of Veunteers.

RECOMMENDED BY MacARTHUR AND OTIS.

This appointment was recommended by Major-General MacArthur, and supplemented very strongly by General Otis in cable dispatch yesterday.

FUNSTON'S SPLENDID SERVICES.

General MacArthur said that the services of Funston during the campaign, and especially in the crossing of the Rio Grande river, deserve recognition such as his promotion to be a Brigadier-General; also that as a leader of troops Colonel Funston was particularly valuable.

McKINLEY RUSHES THE PROMOTION.

The President recognizes the services of Colonel Funston, and his first official act on returning to Washington was to make him a Brigadier-General.

GEN. OTIS' RECOMMENDATION.

The cable which General Otis sent yesterday says:

"MacArthur strongly recommends Colonel Funston's appointment as Brigadier-General for signal skill and gallantry in crossing Rio Grande river and most gallant services since commencement of war. I urge appointment. Funston able as leader of men and has earned recognition."

DOUBLE TRAGEDY SHOCKS STOCKTON

Morbid Love of Two Women Causes a Murder and Suicide.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

STOCKTON, May 2.—Mrs. William Hickman and Mrs. H. A. Hassall of this city were found dead in bed this morning, clasped in loving embrace, with a pistol between them, it having evidently just fallen from the right hand of Mrs. Hassall, who had beyond a doubt shot Mrs. Hickman and then herself.

Mrs. Hassall had been morbidly infatuated with Mrs. Hickman for several months, and though relatives had done what they could to keep the Hassall woman from her, they passed last night together at a private rooming house on South Sutter street.

Mrs. Hassall told her companion the night before that she intended departing for London today, and begged Mrs. Hickman to spend the night with her for the last time.

The two went to Mrs. Hassall's apartments about 10 o'clock last night, and that was the last seen of them alive. When Mrs. Hickman did not return home this morning her father became alarmed, as Mrs. Hassall had said once before that she would rather die than be separated from Mrs. Hickman.

He sent his wife to the lodging house to see if there was any trouble. She found the door locked and so informed her husband. He ran over to the place, a block distant, broke open the door and found them both dead with a bullet hole in the head of each.

Mrs. Hickman was a young woman of good reputation, and was living with her husband at the residence of her father, T. B. Smith, a merchant. Mrs. Hassall was the wife of H. A. Hassall, an Englishman, but has been separated from her husband since last August, on account of her infatuation for Mrs. Hickman, so he declares. She called herself the Duchess, claiming that her husband was an English Duke.

Her folks in London were cabled in regard to the tragedy this morning. Hassall is the Chief Ranger of the English Order of Foresters in this city.

The indications are that the crime was premeditated. The following note was found written on an envelope lying on a trunk this morning in the room in which the tragedy occurred:

"This machine and trunk, with contents, is the property of Miss Edith Cox, 1723 Valdez street, Oakland. Please forward."

Hassall is now working as a waiter at a local restaurant, though he states that he has been residing in this country for some time and that he expected to sail for England as soon as he could effect a reconciliation with his wife.

MAILS CLOSED TO TRAITORS.

No Treasonable Matter Can Be Sent to Manila.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The Postmaster-General has instructed the Postmaster at San Francisco to take out of the Manila mail three pamphlets issued by Edward Atkinson of Boston, vice-president of the Anti-Imperialistic League.

This order does not apply to the circulation of pamphlets by mail in this country, but bars their dispatch from this country to the Philippines, discontent, even mutiny, among the soldiers being stated by the department to be the design of these publications.

The three pamphlets are specifically described, and in no circumstances are they to be forwarded by mail to the Philippines.

Senator Kyle's Ill Health.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Senator Kyle of South Dakota has tendered his resignation as chairman of the Industrial Commission on account of the Senator's ill health. He will continue to serve, however, as a member of the commission.

THE WARDNER OUTRAGE.

WALLACE, Idaho, May 2.—Sheriff Young and County Attorney Samuels are in Wardner today, presumably conferring with State Auditor Sinclair, the Governor's representative, who arrived yesterday. Under Sheriff Seysler pronounces Saturday's outrage unparalleled. Destruction to property was bad enough, but the shooting of the men was utterly without excuse. He further says that while punishment should be meted out to the guilty parties, that only the Federal Government can do so, as there is not a man in Shoshone county qualified to sit as juror in the case.

PICKED MEN FOR WARDNER

PORTLAND, May 2.—Seventy-five picked men of Company M, Twenty-fourth infantry, colored, Captain Bachelor, left Fort Spokane today for Wardner, Idaho. They carry fifteen days' rations and 2,000 rounds of amunition. Many of the soldiers are veterans, who fought at San Juan. The men expect no immediate fighting, but are ready for anything.

New Torpedo Boat.

The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The torpedo boat Somers, which was bought by the United States in Germany previous to the war with Spain, arrived here today on board the Atlantic transport liner Manhattan.

CRAFTY AGUINALDO ASKS AN ARMISTICE.

Wants a Truce Until Filipino Congress Meets, But General Otis Rejects His Proposal.

NEW YORK, May 2.—A Manila dispatch to the Journal says Aguinaldo has made overtures for peace, Colonel Manuel Arguelles of the envoys sent to the American lines having presented a proposition which came directly from Aguinaldo.

AGUINALDO STILL SPARRING FOR WIND.

This proposition, the Journal says, was the same as heretofore made, namely an armistice until the Filipino Congress meets and decides whether the Filipino army should surrender.

GENERAL OTIS' ULTIMATUM IS UNSHAKEN.

General Otis declined, the dispatch says, and told Colonel Arguelles it was useless for the Filipinos to return unless they came prepared to accede to the American demands.

DEWEY HAS NO FURTHER NEWS OF THE MISSING YORKTOWN MEN

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The following telegram has been received from Admiral Dewey by the Navy Department:

"MANILA, May 2.—Secretary of Navy, Washington: I cannot get further information concerning Gilmore and party now. As soon as this information is obtained I will telegraph. Information reached me today from Guam, dated March 20th: 'Inhabitants are quiet and contented under the United States flag.' When will the Glacier depart? DEWEY."

It is stated at the Navy Department that the Glacier will sail from New York on May 15th for Manila.

The Pittsburg Testing Laboratory asked for information as regards the steel work in the bridge over Mocho creek.

The Clerk at the suggestion of Mr. Church was instructed to notify the firm that there was to be no steel work in the structure.

J. Pattinson asked, in a communication, as to when the lumber of the old Webster-street bridge was to be sold.

He was informed that the sale would take place May 28th.

Applications for liquor licenses were made by J. B. Parnard, Niles Canyon, and John Tobler, East Fourteenth street near High street. They were referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Saloon licenses were granted as follows: Henry P. Davis, Bay View; E. S. Haight, Irvington, and Albert Silver, Decoto.

A deed from the Oakland Water Company and W. J. Dingee to Alameda county for a strip of land forty feet wide, dividing the lands of the Oakland Water Company and J. H. Medau, was referred to the District Attorney.

A deed to Alameda county by Mr. and Mrs. E. Lamp and others of a strip of land for road purposes near the Redwood road was referred to the District Attorney.

A deed to the county, by Peter Wilson, of a strip of land for road purposes in Murray township, was filed, the same having been approved by the District Attorney.

Horticultural Commissioner Barry reported as follows:

"Since my last report, the situation of the fruit industry of this district has not developed satisfactorily regarding the output of fruit the coming season.

"While almonds and peaches will be a good crop, apricots will not be one-third of a crop. French prunes will be a very light crop, and cherries, both black and white, will not pay for picking in many orchards.

"The grain and hay prospects, at Newark, Niles, Alvarado, and Warm Springs were never better. Livermore Valley reports the crops there in splendid condition. I find the same fruit reports from Napa, Contra Costa and other counties. In San Ramon Valley there are no almonds or cherries. In Santa Clara county, French prunes are dropping badly and hundreds of fine old cherry trees are being dug up as practically useless owing to the effects of last year's light rainfall.

"Last year's drought has demonstrated that cherry trees will not stand a dry season as well as other fruit trees.

"The movement of nursery stock, both fruit and ornamental, has been something phenomenal when we consider the light rainfall the early part of the year.

"The arrival and departure of nursery stock, as far as I have a record, has been nearly 600,000 of fruit and ornamental trees from the several railroad stations but mostly from Niles.

"The numbers of certificates issued by me up to date is 395."

The report was filed.

The application of Mrs. Ella Lynch for transportation to Portland, Or., was denied.

Henry Brandas, an old soldier, was granted a free peddler's license.

At the last meeting of the Board, opposition was made by D. Kinsell to the granting of a license to M. Casley to sell liquor at the Thalia, at the corner of East Fourteenth street and Orchard street. It was claimed that the license was illegally granted, for the reason that the ordinance did not show, among other things, that the applicant was of good moral character and a fit person to run a saloon. It was also asserted that the Thalia was not run in a respectable manner and that the license ought to be revoked.

On the ground that the license did not show that the owner of the Thalia was a proper person to run a saloon, the objector claimed that all licenses granted without such a showing were not in accordance with the ordinance, were, therefore, illegal and ought to be revoked.

This objection would obtain with respect to all the liquor licenses now in effect. The objection was referred to District Attorney Allen.

This morning Mr. Allen reported that the printed form of the liquor licenses did not, except in an informal manner, set forth all the requirements of the ordinance. The Board, however, he claimed, had discretion in the matter. If the Casley license should be revoked on the ground specified, the same could be done with respect to every liquor license granted in the county.

Supervisor Church said, respecting the character of the Thalia, run by M. Casley, that Kinsell was not the only person who had made complaints against it. A number of residents in that neighborhood had told him that the place was run in a disreputable manner. He moved that Casley be cited to appear before the Board next Monday at 11 o'clock and show cause why the license of the Thalia should not be revoked.

Mr. Mitchell stated that, since the complaint had been made against the saloon at the last meeting, he had made some inquiry as regards the character of the Thalia and had ascertained that it was not the best.

At the last meeting it was stated that there had been a fight at the place in which a man had been severely injured. Although the complaint had not been made after the style of a regular protest or as a regular request for revocation of the license, at the same time, he thought the Board had a right to compel the owner of the saloon to appear and explain all about the fight of last Sunday week.

Mr. Talcott read the ordinance on the subject showing that the complaint should be made in writing. He was not in favor of allowing the place to run if it was not conducted in a proper manner. At the same time the practice of the Board had been to consider no protest or a remonstrance against a liquor license unless the protest or remonstrance was filed in writing. He did not like to proceed without such a complaint before the Board.

Mr. Church wanted to learn from the District Attorney whether the Board, of its own motion, when complaints of a severe character were brought to its attention, did not have the right to inquire into the conduct of saloons and to compel the proprietors to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked.

Mr. Allen said that the Board could take action if it thought the place was not run in a legal manner.

Mr. Church said he claimed that the action of the Board made the license and that the Board could, therefore, for good cause, undo what it had done.

Mr. Mitchell wanted to know what evidence the Board had in the premises.

Mr. Church said that there would be plenty of evidence forthcoming.

The motion prevailed that Casley appear before the Board next Monday at 11 o'clock to show cause why the license should not be revoked.

The bill of Recorder Grim for $225 for clerical work in his office was, on motion of Mr. Church, rejected on the ground that the bill was rendered in an illegal manner. He asserted that each of the claimants should put in an individual bill for his or her services.

Supervisor Wells explained that Ashe the saloon keeper at Warm Springs had offered as an explanation as to why he had not paid for his license to sell liquor, that his (Ashe's) wife was sick and that if he were allowed to run his saloon until the 15th inst., he would then either pay for the license or go out of the business.

It was announced that Ashe was down stairs and word was conveyed to him to appear and make a statement in his own behalf.

E. B. Stone was paid $1,000 on an account of $1,795 for road grading between Oakland and San Leandro.

Supervisor Church said that he had taken the responsibility partly because of the emergency, and because of the criticism of the Grand Jury, and at the suggestion of Dr. Clark to allow temporarily an assistant night nurse at the County Infirmary at the rate of $37.50 a month. There were a number of surgical cases at the Infirmary, and there were some patients who could not be operated on because there was no nurse in attendance save that of the regular attendant, who could not stand the demands made upon her constitution. The nurse had been at the Infirmary for a year, and Mr. Church did not believe she had been away from there during that time one hour. He had known her to be continuously on duty for thirty-six hours. He asked that his action be endorsed, the extra help to be continued only during the rush.

Mr. Mitchell said that a physician had complimented the Board on the excellent condition of the Infirmary, but that he had declared also that the overwork of the nurse was killing her. He moved that the action of Mr. Church be ratified.

There was no second.

Mr. Church then said that he would second the motion himself, but it was a small affair, when the county paid less for nurses, doctors and everything else than any other county in the State, that a small allowance could not be secured for necessary nurse attendance.

Mr. Mitchell's motion carried, Messrs. Church, Mitchell and Wells voting in the affirmative, Mr. Rooth being excused and Mr. Talcott voting in the negative.

CONTRACT IS DECLARED VOID.

The Dredging on Lake Merritt Will Now Be Discontinued.

Judge Ellsworth today decided the contract to dredge Lake Merritt null and void. The contract amounted to $55,500. The work on the lake is abandoned for the present. Contractor Johnson loses $8.000.

The contract for the dredging of Lake Merritt, involving $55,500, has been annulled and declared void by the Superior Court. This decision was handed down this morning by Judge Ellsworth in the action of F. W. Ruppert against Contractor O. P. Johnson.

The decision in this case will cause Contractor Johnson to lose the work he has performed already. The loss is estimated at about $800. Johnson has been paid $1000 on the work. It is a question now whether he is legally entitled to his money, for the annulling of the contract leaves Johnson without any claim for his work.

City Attorney Dow, representing the city, and George De Golia, representing Contractor Johnson, were present when the decision was handed down. Before giving the decision, Judge Ellsworth commented upon the matter at length.

"Many points have been advanced in this case," he said, "and some of them are quite intricate. I will touch upon but one of these points.

"The city charter provides that the contract awarded by the Board of Public Works for this work must specify at what time the work is to commence and at what time it is to be finished. In the contract let there are two provisions as to time. One states that the work must be finished by June 30th. The other says that it must be completed within a year after the letting of the contract. The Board of Public Works seems to have reserved to itself the matter of determining at what date the work is to be finished.

"The charter provides also that the time at which the work is to begin must be specified. In the present case the contract did not fix the time for either the commencement or completion of the work. It states that the work must be finished by June 30th, if the amount of cubic yards taken out does not exceed 550,000. There is no provision made in the event that the number of cubic yards exceeded this amount. Suppose it was exceeded by 100,00 cubic yards, there would then be no specified time for the completion of the work. The contract makes no provisions for that condition. Neither does it provide for the amount to be dredged. So in my judgment it does not specify any time for the completion of the work. Nor does it say that the work is to be done according to the specifications.

"In the contract there were more specifications than there were in the advertisement proposals. It devolves upon the court to decide as to whether or not the action of the City Council in authorizing the Board of Public Works to award the contract under such conditions was mandatory.

"The charter provides that the work be completed at a fixed time, otherwise the contract shall be declared void and the contractor not be allowed pay for the work done. I see no escape from these conditions.

"The City Council instructed the Board of Public Works to have the work done according to the proposals. In these proposals there was no provision for a gateway at the Twelfth street dam. In the contract there is a provision for this gateway which is a very important part of the contract. However, I will not pass upon that question, because it is not necessary. I have found that the contract is void, and it shall be so ordered."

LUNA'S ENVOYS AGAIN CONFER WITH GENERAL OTIS.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

MANILA, May 2.—6:05 P. M.—Major Manuel Arguelles and Lieutenant Jose Bernal of the staff of General Antonio Luna returned here today to renew and press the request of General Luna for a cessation of hostilities.

They have found the field of labor a most ungenial one. The two officers were received in conference with Major General E. S. Otis. The proposals which they had to submit differed but slightly from those which they brought from the Filipino commander in the first place.

They desired a little time in which to summon Congress, and expressed themselves as being confident that the Congress will decree peace, because the people desire it.

The represent that Aguinaldo is without power to surrender the army, and that the Congress must decide that question.

Incidentally, the Filipino envoys asserted that Aguinaldo had not yet made a fair test of his strength against the American forces, because only one-third of his army had been assembled together.

The envoys presented a letter from Senor Mabini, President and Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Cabinet of Aguinaldo, and who is the backbone of the Filipino organization. The communication is personal and unofficial, and seconds Major Arguelles' arguments.

The envoys will see General Otis again tomorrow. They will sleep tonight in Manilla. They lunched with General MacArthur at his headquarters in the the campaign of Calumpit before going to Manilla.

The time spent by General Arguelles, in his overtures and negotiations is giving the insurgents a much-needed opportunity to rehabilitate their demoralized forces.

The truth is that dissensions among the leaders of the rebels is helping on the disorganization of the Filipinos almost as much as the American campaign.

In the course of the conference with the Filipino envoys General Otis agreed with the statement of Major Arguelles that the people of the Philippines wanted peace, and he added that requests for protection are pouring in upon him from all parts of the country.

Major General Lawton was engaged in hard fighting early this morning. Telegraphic communication was cut at 9 A. M., and there have been no reports from General Lawton since that time.

MAN WITH AN HYPNOTIC EYE.

There is a man in Oakland with a Svengali eye.

That is what W. A. Boscow says.

Dr. H. W. Anderson is the gentleman who it is claimed can exercise hypnotic influence.

Mrs. W. A. Boscow is the lady who it is alleged is the victim of hypnotic smiles.

"Boscow had Dr. Anderson arrested simply to drag my name in the mud and disgrace me. That is the truth. I will hold up my right hand and swear that is the truth. I will go into court and swear to the same thing."

These were the statements of Mrs. Boscow, wife of W. A. Boscow, general manager of the Excelsior Redwood Company this morning in speaking of the action of her husband in having Dr. H. W. Anderson arrested on a charge of practicing medicine without a license.

About a year ago Dr. Anderson and his wife were boarders at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boscow. While there Dr. Anderson treated Boscow for several illnesses. Soon the relations between the two families became somewhat strained. Boscow accused the doctor of exerting a hypnotic influence over Mrs. Boscow, thereby alienating her affections.

Dr. Anderson and wife then left the house and took lodgings in another part of the city. It seems, however, that Boscow was not only suspicious of Dr. Anderson, but accused his wife of having other men make eyes at her. According to the statements of Mrs. Boscow she was driven to desperation by the treatment she received from her husband. In speaking of their difficulties Mrs. Boscow said:

"My husband and I have been married fourteen years. My life has been one of persecution almost from the time we were married. Shortly after we were married my husband had me work out and took my wages. I did not even get a new dress out of my money. Several times my husband has accused me of having flirted. He has deserted me three times. The last time he left me I was ill and had no money to support myself and three children, when he was getting $125 monthly salary, all he gave me out of it was $8. His actions have driven me to desperation. He accused me of being under a hypnotic spell which was exercised by Dr. Anderson.

"After Dr. Anderson and his wife left our house the persecutions of Boscow continued. He told me I could not have any allowance at all, but must turn over to him all the bills. I could stand the treatment no longer, so I applied to my attorneys to get a divorce and my rights. I have not fully decided whether or not I will bring a suit for divorce. He has made offers through my attorneys to give me an allowance.

"He has brought these accusations against Dr. Anderson maliciously, and to disgrace me. It shows just what kind of a thing he is. I will not call him a man. His vile treatment has driven me to desperation, and he had better look out."

Dr. Anderson laughs at the idea of his hypnotizing any one. He says he knows nothing about the science.

"I think Boscow's attack was malicious," he said, "but he will have enough of the business before I get through with him. I deny all his allegations in toto. I will prove my statements on the witness stand. I did treat Boscow for some illness, but I did not charge him a cent for the service. I have done considerable prescribing among my friends, but it was always free. I am a licensed physician, but am not practicing in this city.

"I left Boscow's house when I found that he was suspicious of me. I have been in these rooms with my wife for about a year, and have not seen either Mr. and Mrs. Boscow during that time. The matter he is bringing up now occurred over a year ago."

TELLS A VERY QUEER STORY.

Yesterday was a busy day at the Receiving Hospital. Steward Borchert and the attending physicians were at work nearly all day attending to the cases that were brought in.

Gus Deme, a house mover, residing at 866 Lydia street, was treated shortly after 1 o'clock this morning for a severe cut on the wrist. The arteries had been severed and he was weak from loss of blood. Deme stated that he had been drinking quite freely and had stopped to talk to an unknown man on Seventh and Washington streets. He shook hands with the man and then left him. A few minutes later he discovered that his wrist was bleeding. His friends called the patrol wagon and had him taken to the hospital. The circumstances surrounding the case are mysterious.

Joe Williams, a laborer, was treated for a scalp wound caused by falling out of a buggy.

John Christianson, residing at 1667 Tenth street, was found on the sidewalk by the police in a semi-unconscious condition. He was treated at the hospital for a lacerated wound on his chin. He said he was subject to heart disease and had fallen upon the walk.

William McCants, a bricklayer, was treated for a lacerated scalp wound, caused by getting hit over the head with a club. He was fighting at the time.

HOME SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

The Eighth Oakland District meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society was held in the M. E. Church, Haywards, April 26th. It proved a very interesting meeting. Reports were presented in the morning and papers and talks were the order of the afternoon session, with an intermission at noon.

The following officers and secretaries were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. A. J. Shorey, Oakland; vice-president, Mrs. O. J. Backus, Oakland; recording secretary, Mrs. L. G. Burpee, Oakland; corresponding secretary, Miss Laura Buffington, Berkeley; treasurer, Mrs. G. T. Watterson, Alameda; secretary of supplies, Mrs. F. G. Buchanan, Berkeley; secretary of mite boxes, Mrs. John Coyle, Berkeley; secretary of literature, Mrs. Dennett, Alameda.

GRIFFIN ARRESTED FOR PETTY LARCENY

W. H. Griffin was arrested by Deputy Constable Quinlan this morning on a charge of petty larceny.

Griffin has been working on Davis' dairy ranch. Yesterday when Davis returned to his home he found that his watch and $15 were missing. Griffin was the only man on the place. He was, therefore, arrested on suspicion. Detective Holland is working on the case.

Griffin had just finished serving three months in jail for petty larceny committed at the Galindo Hotel.

The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

LONDON, May 1.—May Day is proceeding quietly here today and on the continent. The customary labor demonstration in London consisted of a procession from the Thames to Hyde Park. There was also a cart horse parade, the animals being gaily decorated with ribbons and rosettes.

On the continent work is proceeding as usual, except in Italy, where the day is being celebrated as a day of rest. There is perfect order everywhere.

CONDITIONS ON COPPER RIVER.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Acting Secretary Meiklejohn has received a report from Captain Abercrombie, who is commanding the expedition investigating the Copper river route to the Yukon river country. The report comes through Captain Robins, Quartermaster at Seattle, Wash., who says that the following message was handed him by the purser of the steamer Excelsior, which arrived here yesterday from Valdez, Alaska:

"My expedition disembarked today, April 23d. Hospital organized for the care of destitute miners who are now coming out of the interior by the route you contemplate opening as a military road. While the conditions are distressing so far as the Alaskans are concerned, the worst is over. A full report follows."

"(Signed) "ABERCROMBIE, Commanding."

CUNNING SEA LIONS.

SACRAMENTO, May 1.—Flood V. Flint of this city, while riding on his bicycle along the river bank this morning saw a large sea lion disporting in the river. He watched the animal for some time and was greatly interested in its movements. On one occasion he saw the sea lion dive and disappear and then reappear on the surface of the water with a large salmon in its mouth, which it thrashed about until it had killed the fish, which it then devoured. Four other sea lions were seen near the Sacramento and Yolo bridge early this morning evidently hunting for fish.

There is no doubt that the raids upon the herds in the vicinity of San Francisco and along the coast have driven the sea lions to other waters, where they will be safe from their pursuers.

WELCOME TO THE NASHVILLE

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 1.—Extensive arrangements have been made for the reception of the officers and crew of the United States gunboat Nashville, which will drop anchor off Memphis at 6 o'clock this afternoon.

The gunboat will be met a few miles below the city by the steamer James Lee, bearing Mayor Williams, members of the City Council and a reception committee. The James Lee will escort the Nashville to her place of anchorage, and the freedom of the city will be offered to Captain Maynard and his men. On Tuesday a parade of all civic organizations will occur, and at night a banquet will be given at the Peabody Hotel in honor of the visitor. The gunboat will continue north on Thursday morning.

Glass Blowers' Strike.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

BRIDGETON, N. J., May 1.—The glass blowers, who are on strike with the bottle blowers, held a largely attended meeting today and voted unanimously not to go to work in the fall unless the bottle factories are unionized. The manufacturers say the situation is satisfactory to them, and that they are expecting more non-union journeymen and bottle blowers here this week.

EVIDENCE LACKING FOR CONVICTION.

John Feeley and his two companions, Smith and Vierra, were discharged by Judge Quinn of the charge of killing fish by exploding dynamite.

Attorneys Mendenhall and Ex-District Attorney Harrison of Santa Clara county appeared for the defendants. Chief Deputy District Attorney Melvin represented the State.

L. Hadsell was called by the prosecution and testified that he had seen the men exploding dynamite in the Alameda and Calaveras creeks and that he had seen the dead fish.

Witnesses for the defense testified that they had seen the dead fish the day before that on which Hadsell had seen them.

The court held that the evidence was not strong enough to convict the men. They were, therefore, discharged.

EUROPE FRIENDLY TO US.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

VIENNA, May 1.—The official Freaden Blatt in the course of an article today designates the cablegrams which passed between Emperor William and President McKinley last week over the German cable matter as important demonstrations of friendship, because they mark the close of a period of negotiations between America and Germany.

"Just as Europe has grown accustomed to regard the great American republic as a new great power," the Freaden Blatt concludes, "America must admit that she meets here not prejudice or dislike, but perfect readiness to return conciliation for conciliation and friendliness for friendliness."

GENERAL RAISE IN WAGES.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 1.—It is estimated that over 3,500 mechanics of this city will receive increased wages from today. Seven hundred machine molders went to their work this morning with an advance of 10 per cent, and the stove plate molders receive a like advance.

The carpenters get 2½ cents more an hour, making a total hour scale of 27½ cents, and are also benefited by a universal eight-hour rule.

The plumbers start the month with a straight $3 a day scale, a 25 cent advance. The structural iron workers get a 5 per cent advance, and the brick layers will receive fifty cents an hour instead of 45 cents per hour as heretofore. The plasterers receive a slight advance, and the Lathers' Union receive $2.50 per day, instead of $2.

SCHURMAN'S REPORT

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The State Department has received a long cable report from President Schurman of the Philippine Commission of the conference that was held at Manila Saturday between the members of the Commission and the representatives of Aguinaldo. The text of the dispatch was not made public, but it was stated that Mr. Schurman's report agrees precisely with the Associated Press' statements of the proceedings as cabled from Manila.

GILPIN'S SCHEME ON INTEREST.

City Treasurer Gilpin suggests that by withdrawing the city's money from the safe deposit vault and placing it on deposit with the local banks the necessity of the city's employes paying six per cent interest for money loaned on their salary claims for April, May and June will be done away with. He says the banks having the use of the money would make it earn the interest they would otherwise charge employes.

HE CANNOT CONTROL WIFE.

Mrs. Annie Colgett of 1004 Fourteenth street was in a very angry frame of mind today. Her husband brought her to the Receiving Hospital to have her examined as to her sanity. Mrs. Colgett was locked in a room while Warden Keating spoke to the husband about the case.

At the last moment Colgett refused to sign a statement charging his wife with insanity. He said he would take her home again and try to keep her quiet.

On being released from the room Mrs. Colgett gave Warden Keating a rating "for locking a lady up in a room when she had come there to consult with some doctors."

"I have friends and influence in this city," she said, "and will see that you lose your place."

Mrs. Colgett has been under treatment with Dr. Mauzy for some time on account of her mental trouble. She has threatened to kill her husband several times and to burn his home down. The nurses who have been attending the woman have on several occasions had to flee for their lives. It was owing to his inability to restrain his wife during her violent spells that Colgett was induced to take her to the hospital.

KAISER'S SHREWD STATESMANSHIP.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

LONDON, May 1.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times says:

"Emperor William has once more shown how entirely his most generous impulses are made to subserve the aims of state policy and how far his ideas of foreign policy are exalted above the petty rancors of an influential section of the German press. It ought to be noted that the telegraphic correspondence between Emperor William and President McKinley regarding the German cable were both published in the original English text. On the very eve of the Kaiser's telegram certain papers published a dispatch from New York declaring that Captain Coghlan's dismissal was under consideration, but that Dr. Holeben did not insist upon it.

"The truth is that many of those who make the most noise in Germany's foreign politics do not in the least realize the necessity of the situation. Germany has become deeply committed to a policy of commercial rivalry with Great Britain and the United States, and in authoritative quarters it is considered imperative that in the meantime, at least, Germany should maintain political friendship with these two powers.

"The Berliner Post, pointing this out, says that what Germany needs is a respite in order to develop her naval power and to shape her policy with a view to ultimate, if still remote, advantages."

A CLOSE CALL FOR FRUIT.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SACRAMENTO, May 1.—The fruit growers in this section of the country were apprehensive during the last few days that there would be a severe frost, but up to this time, although there has been a trace of frost, an exceedingly small amount of damage was done.

The temperature last night and early this morning was very low, and had it gone down much further serious damage would have resulted.

A SNOW STORM IN UTAH.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SALT LAKE, Utah, May 1.—The ground is covered with about four inches of snow, and the storm which started at 4 o'clock this morning still continues at noon. It is feared that much damage will be done to the fruit crop.

COURT NOTES.

Default has been entered against the defendants in the action of William Kohler against Max Neckhaus.

The second appraisement of the estate of Phillip Boogar, deceased, fixes the value at $8,350.

H. F. Hobson has received judgment in Judge Quinn's court for $87.10 against Peter Gibbons.

The Bank of Haywards has brought suit to recover $800 from J. R. Reed on two promissory notes.

The statement of the Republican City Central Committee of Berkeley shows $305.50 received and the same amount disbursed during the recent election campaign.

ENGLAND AND OUR TARIFF.

LONDON, May 1.—In the House of Commons, Douglass Harry Coghill, Conservative, asked the Ministry if the Foreign Office had instructed the representative of Great Britain at Washington to make representations to the government of the United States as to the great injury caused to various branches of British trade by the existing American tariff, and to urge the advisability of withdrawing a tariff so unfavorable to Great Britain.

In reply the Right Hon. William St. John Brodérick said that it was not usual to make representations to a foreign power upon its tariff policy, except in connection with some specific negotiations. The government, he said, did not consider that at the present moment instructions such as the member suggested would be likely to result to the benefit of British commerce.

Negro Preaches Wild Talk.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 1.—The Rev. H. J. Callis preached last night at the Zion Church (colored) on the racial troubles of the South. He said that the white women of the South had not protected their own characters. He made a plea for them before the organization of colored men, and said that 2,500,000 colored men were able to carry arms, and predicted that if the murders of colored men in the South did not cease there would be a conflict between the black and white men of the South. He said that his brethren in the South looked to the North for salvation.

DAMAGE DONE BY FROST.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

STOCKTON, May 1.—While reports show that there was frost throughout the county last night, there was no damage except at Linden and Clements. In the former place potatoes and grapes were hit hard, though the frost had a beneficial effect on the peach trees, thinning out the overladen branches, which otherwise would have been done by hand. At the latter place corn was damaged somewhat.

Special reports to the Mail by telephone today are to the effect that the prospects for an immense grain crop are first-class, with the exception of on the West Side and at Tracy, where north winds have shrunk the wheat. Yesterday's rain was general and averaged .40, though at Farmington the fall was 1.70.

MONEY FOR THE CUBANS.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

HAVANA, May 1.—Governor General Brooke purposes to bring the matter of the payment of the Cuban troops to a head immediately. He sent a request to General Maximo Gomez that the latter and the Junta of consulting Cuban generals should come at once to a decision as to whether the Cuban muster rolls are to stand now as made up or are to be reduced as General Gomez has been expecting. If he could consult his own desires, General Brooke would pay $100 per man to such as are entitled to share in the $3,000,000, but if General oGmez continues to vouch for 30,930 troops, payment will begun without further delay on that basis.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SAN JOSE, May 1.—There was a white frost over much of this valley this morning, and ice formed in some exposed places. It is too soon yet to tell if damage has been done, but fears are entertained for grapes, as foliage on them is not generally enough to afford protection.

SPORTS AMONG THE AMATEURS.

Clubrooms— Gymnasium. Racing— Practice. Indoor— Outdoor.

The amateurs are enjoying fine sport this spring. The clubrooms are crowded nearly every evening, and a great deal of interest is being taken in the various organizations. The Reliance Athletic Club is preparing for a very busy season. Two entertainments are now on the tapis. The Acme boys are also very busy these days planning for the future. Following will be found a resume of the local sporting events of the week.

Reliance Club.

The old saying that "the new broom sweeps clean" is illustrated in a very substantial manner by the work already accomplished by the new board of directors. Elected only a little more than a week, they have secured twenty-five applications for membership to be acted upon at their first meeting, which will be held Friday night. This is a record-breaker, but the directors say they do not intend to stop until they have five hundred paying members.

With the excellent club-house and attractions at their disposal, it would seem as though they should be able to do this if they keep up their good recruiting work.

Arrangements are being perfected for both a ladies' and a gentlemen's night about the middle of the month. The ladies' night will be in the form of a musical entertainment, followed by an impromptu dance. This is the form of ladies' night entertainments which were so popular a few years ago. This event will probably take place on the 17th.

The gentlemen's night will take place on the 19th, and will consist of two eight-round goes, preceded by two or three try-outs. The club's reputation and success with its boxing nights is assurance of a good entertainment in this line.

Sunday the gun club will hold the first merchandise shoot of the season at Alameda point. Captain Seaver has spread himself on this event, and as a result there will be sixty-five prizes awarded.

"Pop" Jerome, accompanied by Messrs. Mosher, Burnett, Roberts and Cornwall, indulged in an impromptu run to San Jose Saturday, returning yesterday. They report having had their usual good time.

The interest in the new bowling alleys continues on the increase, and every evening finds the basement crowded with both players and interested spectators. Cash Davis takes special pride in keeping the alleys in good trim and spends a portion of each day working on them.

"Cocked Hat" is still the favorite game and until the members desire a change no attempt will be made to introduce another game.

Al Higgins has the highest score made in the alley, 36. Ed Butterworth, with 45, is a good second, while Jack Prusch, Frank Fletcher, and Peckham have all made good scores.

Next week the directors hope to have the basement so fitted that the ladies day and evening can become a fact. One day and evening each week will be reserved for ladies only, and owing to the excellent exercise, together with the spirit of competition which enters the game, it will doubtless result in a large attendance of the fair sex.

Jellett Brothers, Williams and Mahoney are practising in the handball courts every night for the games with the Olympic teams to decide the tie in the late inter-club tournament.

The following schedule of games has been arranged to settle the question of supremacy: May 23d, at the Olympic Club, James and Harrison vs. Williamson and Mahoney; Morton and Eagan vs. Jellett brothers; June 5th, at the Reliance Club, James and Harrison vs. Jellett brothers, Morton and Eagan vs. Williamson and Mahoney; June 9th, at the Olympic Club, James and Harrison vs. Jellett brothers, Morton and Eagan vs. Williamson and Mahoney; June 12th, at the Reliance Club, James and Harrison vs. Williamson and Mahoney, Morton and Eagan vs. Jellett brothers.

Acme Affairs.

Captain Arthur Agnew held a try-out for his relay candidates Sunday. Reversing the order the men rode from San Leandro to High street. Eighteen men rode in the try-out and from this number the Captain has selected all but three of his team. The balance will be picked from those who show up to the best advantage in another try-out Sunday.

In two ex-Chicago men the Club has secured two hard men to beat. They have been members of the club for several months but it was only a few weeks ago at the joint run to Centerville that it was discovered they were ex-road racers. This was the first time these men had been out on the road and the change from plowing through sand and mud to riding on the excellent California roads fanned the old racing flame and they modestly confessed they had for years ridden with more or less success in the big Chicago and Pullman road races.

These men are Harry Pratt and Chas. Whitson and their work has convinced the members of the club that they will be of great value in the team.

The eighteen men from whom the team is to be selected are as follows: Howard Squire, Theodore Schleuter, George Ferris, J. H. Otey, Captain Arthur Agnew, Harry Anderson, A. T. Smith, Jack Sampson, Harry Pratt, Charles Whitson, J. Kennedy, Will Hope, B. Bradshaw, Joseph Climer, Jack Ferris, Justin Young, J. Ready and "Kid" Agnew.

Those who do not qualify for the race will act as trailers.

Though it was only decided at the last minute to put in a team, the Directors are not more than pleased with the prospect as they firmly believe there will not be another team as strong as their own, and they can already see the cup gracing the mantel of the reception room.

Friday evening another of the club's popular smokers will be held. Elmer Reed has charge of the affair and he promises a very original entertainment. In addition to the customary songs and instrumental music, red lemonade and smoking utensils, he has a novel feature which he proposes to spring on the club at an unexpected moment. The success of like affairs in the past assures a good attendance Friday night.

One week from Thursday evening Billy Hodgkins and Eddie Toy will have a six-round go. This will be the main event for another members night of amateur contests. The success of the last one has resulted in an increase in membership as well as a large crop of aspiring boxers who desire to gain local fame in the roped arena.

The pool tournament was concluded yesterday. Dr. Weston finished with the greatest number of points to his credit while Judge Stetson finished first on the other end.

Cycling

It has been definitely settled that this year's relay will have but four clubs contesting for the honor which in former years was for six months in the year the sole topic of conversation among club members. The weaker clubs have arrived at the conclusion that they have no show with a few good riders against teams of cracks, and have therefore concluded to sit on the fence this year.

The Olympic wheelmen, Garden City wheelmen, Bay City wheelmen and Acme wheelmen will each enter a team, and of course each club fully expects to win. While the Bay Cities have been lucky enough to get their men over the finishing line first for four consecutive years, it is doubtful if they can do the trick this year.

All the clubs have strong teams, but with the team to be put in by the Acmes it is going to be a hard task for any other club to win, and the wearers of the red and black are very confident of carrying off the cup.

It has been rumored that Chairman Leas of the Road Racing Committee would appoint as starter of the big race Jack McGlynn of the Olympic Club. It is strange if the chairman cannot find a wheelman capable of filling that important position. McGlynn never rode a wheel in his life, and admits that he is simply out to get his name before the public. He has been successful in several lines of sport, particularly baseball and football, but one will notice that he did not last long.

The big relay race from Stockton to Sacramento was postponed on account of rain. It will probably be held in two weeks.

It is doubtful if the challenge issued for a race between O. T. Smith and A. P. Deacon will be accepted by the former. In case it is not, J. E. Wing and Deacon will no doubt be matched to ride on the 21st at Elmhurst.

Lawn Tennis

Lawn tennis is experiencing a sudden and wonderful boom on both sides of the bay. For at least nine months it has been impossible to attract as many as twenty spectators at a tournament at the California courts. The presence of 600 people there last Saturday was most gratifying to the directors.

In the academic tournament at the courts at the Alameda Club last Saturday George Broemmell and E. Jones defeated Jacobi and Mitchell, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1. In singles Broemmell defeated Mitchell, 6-1, 6-3. Jones defeated Jacobi, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3.

At the Madison Club, in this city, Dibert and Brown defeated Otis and Alexander, 6-1, 6-2. Brown defeated Otis, 6-4, 7-5. Dibert, in magnificent play, defeated Alexander, 6-0, 6-0. Brown defeated Broemmell, 6-0, 6-3. Dibert defeated Jones, 6-0, 7-5.

Since winning the intercollegiate tournament last Saturday the Stanford boys have been flaunting cardinal hued flags in the faces of their brothers from classic Berkeley, but there is a rumor extant that the blue and gold team desire sweet revenge and will soon issue a very defiant document.

Trap Shooters

Arrangements are now well under way for the tournament to be given by the California Inanimate Target Association at Antioch on May 29th and 30th. All the principal clubs in the State have announced that they will send teams, and many applications for membership in the association have been made by organizations that desire to participate in the big Antioch event.

The program of individual matches will provide for five twenty-bird races each day. Class shooting is to prevail, and a trophy is to be provided as the first class prize in every event. The money will be divided among the men in the next four classes, which means that a score of sixteen out of twenty, where straight scores are made, will give the shooters a place in fourth class.

Heretofore it has been the custom where four moneys were given to allow 40 per cent to the first class, 30 per cent to the second class, 20 per cent to the third class and 10 per cent to the fourth class. This year the order will be reversed, the object being to place the greatest amount of money where there will be the greatest number of men to share its division. The usual cash prizes will be given for high averages, and decorations will be provided—two for the best two averages between 85 and 90 per cent, three for the best three averages between 70 and 80 per cent and four for the best under 70 per cent. The side pools will also be a feature of the tournament.

Base Ball

After several unsuccessful attempts the Oakland baseball team has at last dedicated its new park in a fitting manner, taking occasion incidentally to make a winning in the first game by defeating the Senators.

After having for several weeks shown a decided tendency to tear holes in the atmosphere, the local team unlimbered yesterday and everybody hit the sphere—that is, everybody who ever pretends to hit it, and after the third inning the result was never in doubt.

Sixteen hits, including two home runs and a double, were the sum total of Oakland's stick work for the game. Billy Hammond and Moskiman both put the ball over left field fence for the circuit, and Moskiman plugged out a two bagger besides. The midget catcher, however, was the star of the game, for besides his four cushion shot he picked out three singles.

The crowd rooted as only a home crowd can when they are on the winning side, and notwithstanding the rain the people were exceedingly happy.

There will be no game at the local grounds Sunday, the home team going to Sacramento to try conclusions with the Senators. The latter, reinforced with Harvey in the box and a home crowd to root, hope to turn the tables on the dudes, but now that the hoodoo is broken the latter propose to keep up their lick and land on top of the heap.

PREPARING FOR THE GOLDEN CARNIVAL.

At the weekly meeting yesterday of the Executive Committee of the Golden Carnival, which opens this coming Saturday at the Exposition Building, it was announced by President H. O. Cushing that a good many hundred of the one-dollar coupon tickets had been sold, and that the sale this week, he thought, will exceed 1000 tickets. Arrangements had been made with Professor Markburg to give an out-door free exhibition of high wire walking on a wire stretched fifty feet above the ground. He could finish it with a ride for life, and that this would be given each afternoon and evening in front of the Exposition Building. The three street car companies have generously donated money towards paying for the attraction.

The committee reported that an invitation had been extended through Mrs. F. M. Smith, to the Old Ladies' Home and the Central Free Kindergarten to visit the Exposition or Carnival some afternoon, and also in the public schools and to the Catholic and other private schools to be the guests of the Native Sons and Native Daughters on different afternoons during the Carnival.

Arrangements were made with Wm. Hilton, proprietor of the California Silk Mills of Berkeley to install a working silk loom in the Carnival and manufacture bear flag souvenir handkerchiefs. It was decided to have a contest night with contests for Native Sons and Native Daughters. This will embrace a ladies' nail-driving contest and Native Sons' guessing contest, prizes to the largest family of Native Sons and Native Daughters, to the oldest mother of Native Sons and Daughters, to the oldest gentleman, and for a wood-sawing contest of Native Sons.

On Thursday evening, April 27th, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Holland were tendered a pleasant and complete surprise at their residence, No. 805 Webster street, by members of the Calanthe Temple No. 6, Rathbone Sisters.

The occasion was complimentary to the twenty-fourth anniversary of their marriage.

The arrangements were so well planned that both were completely taken by surprise. Mr. Holland, who is somewhat a devotee in lodge work, had been requested to assist a brother member on some constitutional amendments, while his wife had been called out to visit a reputed sick member of her Temple, of which she is the excellent chief.

While in the midst of his work with his brother, the door-bell rang and in marched forty-eight members of the Temple, laden down with the good things for an evening's enjoyment.

Just about this time Sister Holland returned from her visit and was dumbfounded at the display, but, regaining her composure, wraps were removed and those present told to enjoy themselves.

Sister Wilson, on behalf of the Temple, spoke a few words in an able manner relative to the good work done by Sister Holland as their presiding officer, and asked Sister Larmer to hand to each a token from the members as a slight recognition of their feelings.

The recipients feelingly responded, after which music, singing, games, etc., were indulged in.

Tables were spread and refreshments served under the supervision of Brother Jim Moon, as chef, ably assisted by several of the sisters.

At 12:30 the last adieus were said, each expressing that a pleasant time had been had. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Jno. A. Bonham, Mr. and Mrs. James Robet, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Everson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wm. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frandsen, Mr. and Mrs. P. Kolich, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maddern, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Larmer, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Spencer, Mrs. W. D. Bennett, Mrs. A. Climo, Mrs. Mattie Starratt, Mrs. E. L. Mann, Mrs. E. Robinson, Mrs. C. A. Clark, Mrs. Ella L. Yosemite = Valley

This Wonderful Creation of Nature Is Now at Its Best

Just what that means, however, the ablest writers and the most talented artists have been unable to tell us. They have written volumes and have painted the very heavens in their efforts to do the subject justice, but in despair have finally exclaimed

GO AND SEE FOR YOURSELF

Now that's good advice. You will find there a narrow crooked chasm seven miles long, with rugged battlemented walls 10 times higher than the highest building. You will find water-falls leaping from vertical cliffs 16 times higher than Niagara. You will see mountain parks studded with every variety of forest tree and flowering shrub. You will see thundering torrents, roaring cataracts, beautiful lakes, inspiring skies, brilliant rainbows, a wealth of ferns and plant beauty, and all the birds of the air bursting their very throats in song for the pure ecstacy of living.

The Trip Has No Hardships

You go in a luxurious sleeping-car to within 65 miles of the Valley, and the remainder of the way in comfortable coaches over a fine turnpike.

Hotel rates in the Valley are from $2.50 to $4.00 per day and the charges for guides and saddle animals vary from $1.00 for a trip on the floor of the Valley, to $4.00 for an all day tripup the difficult trails.

The side trip to the famous

is $2.00, and should always be included.

M. E. DeCora, (Seventh, near Broadway,) Southern Pacific Agent, will tell you all about Ticket Rates and Train Movements. He will also give you a folder containing other information about Yosemite.

TUESDAY.....MAY 2, 1899.

The best proof of Dewey's greatness is that his head is not being turned by all the adulation that is being bestowed upon him.

Emperor William has bestowed one of his decorations upon Providence, out of gratitude for the recovery of Rudyard Kipling. He evidently wants to give practical demonstration of that divine right he claims to possess.

Spain expresses surprise because, in the surrender of the Filipinos, we have been able to accomplish in 100 days what she could not attain in 300 years. They are just beginning to discover in the Old World what kind of people we really are.

The sea-serpent and airship season is on us again. More messages from Andree are being found in bottles alleged to have drifted down from Polar seas—the romancists don't intend to let the opportunities created by his sensational disappearance die out so soon.

The police departments throughout the land can well afford to stand in with the newspapers as regards giving them all the news, for in many instances the work of the press proves far more effective than that of all their detectives put together. A case in point is that of "Strangler" Wilson, who eluded the police in San Francisco and who has been caught at Santa Cruz. He was recognized on a train through the pictures and descriptions of him printed in the daily papers, and was handed over to the officers just in time to prevent him from escaping to Mexico.

A PAGE OF PROGRESS.

Every now and again is heard a dissenting voice to the statement that an era of prosperity has settled down over the country, and the grumbler, who is sometimes a Republican, but more often a Democrat, insists that as a matter of fact times have scarcely improved at all during the three years that have passed since the people placed McKinley at the head of affairs.

How unfair such criticisms really are becomes readily apparent upon the most casual review of the situation. Three years ago scarcely a day passed that the papers did not chronicle the failure of either a bank or a big commercial institution; factories were closed, workmen idle, our exports had shrunk, capital fearful of losing investments, was tightly locked up in the banks and treasure-vaults, the real estate markets were stagnant, money was scarce—in fact, a general air of depression prevailed throughout the land.

Today all this is changed. It is hard to find a factory or foundry whose doors are locked and whose machinery lies rusting and idle. Work is not only plentiful but wages have increased, real estate is booming in every city, more lines of new railroad are being constructed at present than at any time for half a dozen years past, new steamship lines are being put on, capital is seeking investment, and the man who complains of hard times has but himself to blame.

The greatest proof obtainable of this improved order of things has just been presented in a special report issued by the Treasury Department. It shows that during last month our exports of manufactures averaged $1,400,000 a day, the highest record ever made in the country, the former record figures of $1,000,000 a day having been totaly eclipsed. In 1897 manufactures formed 26.8 per cent of our total exports, but the business done during March shows that of the total exports for that month, 35.5 per cent was manufactures.

It needs no argument to prove that the more our exports increase the greater our prosperity must be, for the more we sell, the more we produce, and, ergo, the more money reaches the channels of labor wherein flow the life-blood of the country. An appropriate way of summing up the situation is in the language of Dickens's Yankee, who told him, "We are going ahead fast, my friend, and don't you forget it."

THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

Once again a Nicaragua Canal Commission has made a favorable report regarding the proposed waterway across the isthmus, and, although there can no longer be any doubts as to the feasibility of the project, President McKinley will, in accordance with the arrangements made by the last Congress, proceed to send another commission to the scene, so that the reports to be handled next winter may be final.

The latest estimates of the cost of the project do not differ materially from those presented before, and the fact that there are no radical changes is an indication that the figures in each instance have been carefully and logically prepared. The report shows that the cost of completing the canal and opening it to navigation for vessels of all nations will not exceed a maximum of $135,000,000, with a possible minimum of $90,000,000 to $100,000,000. The route proposed is from Greytown on the Atlantic side, via Lake Nicaragua and the San Juan river, to Brito on the Pacific, and the low levels are given preference to the surveys over higher ground.

The knowledge that we are in earnest about the construction of the canal, and that arrangements for the work upon it will, in all probability, be made by the next Congress, has stirred up the promoters and stockholders of the Panama scheme to one last despairing effort in the interests of their venture, and offers to place it in our possession for a sum far below that already expended upon it have prompted the instructions to the new commission to also include that project in its report. There is little likelihood, though, that the Panama plans will prevail over those made for Nicaragua, for we can go ahead and completely construct a canal at the latter place for less than it would cost to finish up the work already done lower down the isthmus. Then again, no matter under what conditions we might obtain control of the Panama canal, we would be subject to entanglements and financial attacks from those stockholders who have sunk large sums of money in the enterprise, and although we could, of course, effectually ward them off, they would be none the less unpleasant.

That the next Congress will take some sort of action upon the canal issue seems certain, for McKinley is determined, if possible, to make the inauguration of work upon the enterprise one of the glories of his administration, and he will, therefore, use every leverage at his command to bring about that result. The general acknowledgment, too, that the canal is a naval and military necessity, in addition to the vast commercial advantages it will materialize, will obtain for it the support of the principal financial interests of the country, so it does not seem possible that the enterprise can be longer delayed. It cannot come any too soon for the Pacific coast, for its construction means the commencement of a new and glorious epoch in our commercial career.

All this talk that the opportunities to become rich or famous are practically gone on account of the way the world has grown up gets a good set-back every now and then. A late illustration is in the case of the Minister of Finance in Russia, who, in one of the oldest and most conservative nations in the world, has in twenty years risen from the position of railroad station-master to the most important place in the Empire. Loubet, who has evolved from peasant to President of the French Republic, furnishes another example—in fact, similar instances can be found in every direction. The future holds out just as much promise for the young man of today as if he had been born fifty years ago—it is simply a question of individual energy, pluck and ability.

Nevada is going to bring more odium upon herself by having a bull fight with all the brutal accessories of the sport. Everything goes up there as long as there is any money in it, and it is a wonder that they don't develop that American Monte Carlo that has been talked of so much at times. The railroads would stand in with them, and in view of the gambling fever that exists throughout the country the promoters of the venture might be able to rival the Prince of Monaco as regards ill-gotten incomes.

What with the attractions of May Day and Dewey Day combined, the holiday was celebrated in a very thorough manner. Fifty years ago, the first of May was one of the principal festal occasions of the year, especially for young people, but of late it gradually began to lose its holiday attachments. Dewey has, however, revived the anniversary, and it starts out with a new lease of life that promises to be a long one.

Another free silver object lesson is being given in connection with our payment to Spain of the $20,000,000 for the Philippines. We are settling up in gold, and the Bank of Spain is offering its government $115,750,000 in silver for the money, or a premium of $3,150,000. That conveys a good idea of how we would stand if the country were put on a Bryan basis.

Canada is going to subsidize the British Pacific cable venture with annual bounties of $100,000. They will have their line laid and in running order before we get through talking about ours.

James T. Hamilton and wife (nee Mrs. Eva Wren) will arrive in Oakland this week from their home in Pittsburg, Pa., to visit relatives and friends. They have engaged apartments at the Metropole Hotel for the summer

THE SUCCESSOR OF DR. KELLOGG.

Time Nearing for the Selection of a President.

Some Points for the Regents to Consider.

By a U. C. PROFESSOR.

This suspense cannot, in the nature of things, last much longer.

This great institution of the State, theoretically and practically the State's greatest institution, bidding fair to some day become one of the world's greatest and best known institutions, is now virtually and nominally acephaseous. It is without a head. It is running by its own inertia. It is kept going by the forces of the machinery, of the mechanism with which the brain and genius of its founders and its early conductors have endowed it.

It is much to the credit, certainly, of those primitive and formative conductors of California's University that it can thus go on about its nice and delicate and vast and important work with no actual and permanent president. They have builded well, and no passing storm of transition and evolution can shake the splendid edifice from its foundations.

True, this University has the inestimable advantage of having still with it the man whose skill and calmness, whose modest, almost impersonal force, whose many-sidedness and broad tolerance, have led it on and built it up from the feeble steps of institutional infancy to its present adolescence and vigor. He has rendered the University this very service before and for a much longer time. Yet that was when it was much younger and less complex, when the innate forces within it throbbing, surging, crying for expansion and direction, were fewer and less imperious.

Dr. Martin Kellogg cannot go on forever, holding down and holding together those forces, holding down his vacated seat and leadership and initiative for an unknown and unguessable successor. It is too much to demand of him, faithful, generous, devoted as he is. It is too much, too perilous a thing to expect of that most complicated, most exposed product of human mechanism, a great-many-armed, many-ganglioned University.

Assuredly, the end is near, and well it may be.

President Kellogg's recently extended term as Acting President will expire on July 1st. On that date a new fiscal year will begin for the University. Within that period measured by that date the naming of a new President for the University may be expected, may reasonably be demanded by the public whose interest in the welfare of the University of California, and in every detail relating to it, is as unconcealed as it is unchallengable.

The May meeting of the Board of Regents is now at hand. Its regular meeting must fall early in the present month. Its next following regular meeting would fall early in June. At one or other of these meetings, it is most reasonable to suppose, the great and lagging question will be decided.

The public interest in that decision, although deep and keen, is limited and may be very easily defined. The public, the great State of California first, but next and greater and more important, the whole republic of letters, have no favorites, no prepossessions, no prejudices, no partialities. They, this public, only ask and demand, of the Board of Regents that the world be made to give of its best for the filling of this great office. That seems a simple enough thing to ask. Well for the Regents, and to their lasting credit, to their posthumous and continuing credit will it be, if they shall prove equal to the length and breadth and the heighth and depth of the responsibility which the performance of this duty involves and places upon them.

Upon the manner and the spirit in which the Regents discharge this duty depends in a degree the whole future character, tone, moral prosperity and the repute of our State. So intimately has the welfare of the University involved itself with that of the State.

Rarely have some two dozen gentlemen and one lady had interests so large and so far-reaching depending on them.

The reason for the peculiar gravity of this responsibility lies in the crisis which our State University has reached, reduplicated in a way, as it is, by the crisis, by the new departure point which the State of California has reached.

In one sense, the future of our State University is assured beyond peradventure or occasion for concern. To the seeing eye, to the larger perspective, to the view that takes in the centuries, with all the manifold interests of the nation and the interests of many nations and of many coming generations involved, this choice of a President for the University of California is fraught with issues too deep for words.

Such friends of the University of California are looking to the deliberations of the Regents, and of their committee to whom the initiative in this matter has been entrusted not without anxiety. They would in nowise hamper the deliberations or the action of these Regents. Public opinion, in the first instance, has, should have, little to do with the choice of a President for the University of California. Politics, in the narrower and ordinary sense of the term, has nothing whatever to do with this profoundly important matter. Yet, for the reasons already noted, to say that this is a matter that does not touch public opinion would be a ridiculous contradiction of a patent fact.

Every intelligent citizen of California is interested in this decision and knows that he is interested. His concern is hardly less intense than that which the Regents may be supposed to feel. It would not be exaggeration to say that a positive degree of public responsibility for the outcome of the deliberations of the Regents is felt.

That the public of California have large cause to trust the conscience, the wisdom, the disinterestedness of the Regents, who represent them in this weighty matter, may be and must be most gladly conceded. In no important crisis in the affairs of their State University have the Regents failed them. The presumption is established that these custodians of the State's highest educational interests and repute will not prove unequal to the strain of this supreme emergency.

On but a single point will the local public of California, which is the public immediately and abidingly interested, insist upon making its opinion felt in the determination of this choice of a President for the University of California. That point is that the choice shall be based upon, shall be swerved by, shall be tinged by no manner of geographical considerations

On this point, California's aspirations are as wide as the world. The people of the State feel that their young university, despite its youth, nay, by very reason of its youth, has the right to command tribute from the world of the best that it can furnish in the way of a University President. This by virtue of the institution's assured illimitable resources in the way of material assistance from both private and the public munificence, and by virtue of the educational services on a new and absolutely unparalleled scale that it is prepared to render to the world. On this point the Tribune well might echo the words recently so ringingly presented in these columns by that wise and staunch friend of the University, and ideal live and sympathetic University man, the Hon. William R. Davis.

Yet, withal, it is to be noted that this very consideration, insisted upon by the eloquence of Mr. Davis, and insisted upon as well by the whole public of California, carries with it its converse. If no preference is to be accorded a candidate for this position because of his past identification with the State of California, so, as truly, no prejudice must attach any candidate from that cause. The assumption that California could produce no candidate for this Presidency worthy of consideration or, after due deliberation and comparison, worthy of the Regent's choice, would be as idle and ridiculous and as far from the lofty spirit of the people of California as the other claim that California must in this selection favor home industry and a home product.

It is for this reason, because of this conviction looking both ways, that the rumor that has gone abroad that at least one of the worthy gentlemen who constitute this tribunal had made up his mind and had given it out to his fellows that no California material is to be considered, has occasioned some disquiet among thoughtful students of this problem. Still, the public will not think so lightly of Regents whom they have always heretofore found occasion to trust, as to conceive that they as a body will commit themselves to any such arrant heresy against common sense.

No, the people of California have no candidate for this place. All that they desire is to have the Regents find and call the very best man available the world around for the great and sacred post of President of the University of California. To that end, they insist, they demand that the geographical factor shall be entirely eliminated from the problem, whether as a plus or as a minus quantity.

BLACK SHEEP.

From their folded mates they wander far,
Their ways seem harsh and wild;
They follow the beck of a baleful star,
Their paths are dream-beguiled.

Yet haply they sought but a wider range,
Some loftier mountain slope,
And little reckon of the country strange
Beyond the gates of hope.

And haply a bell with a luring call
Summoned their feet to tread
Midst the cruel rocks where the deep pitfall
And the lurking snare are spread.

Maybe, in spite of their tameless days
Of outcast liberty,
They're sick at heart for the homely ways
Where their gathered brothers be.

And oft at night, when the plains fall dark
And the hills loom large and dim,
For the shepherd's voice they mutely hark,
And their souls go out to him.

Meanwhile, "Black sheep! black sheep!" we cry,
Safe in the inner fold;
And maybe they hear and wonder why,
And marvel out in the cold.
—Richard Burton in the Atlantic Monthly.

The Fascination of Placer Mining

"When once a man falls under the spell of the placer," said an old citizen, "he is as good as gone. Placer mining is undoubtedly the most fascinating form of gambling in the world. It continually lures its victims on and on, and is forever holding enormous rewards just beyond their reach. Prospecting for veins and lodes is a cold, scientific affair, and the ore, when found must be dug like coal and treated in smelters. But the placer hunter is 'the whole thing,' as the saying goes, in himself. He wanders as he pleases through a mineral country, following the course of streams and washing out the sand in his tin pan. What gold he finds is pure and bright, and when he gets through work he puts it in his pocket, without bothering about smelters and mills. He is his own paymaster and the freest creature of all Gods toilers. No wonder the life captivates so many men and preserves its charm through years of failure and privation. I tried it myself when I was younger, and if my family hadn't dragged me away by main force I would probably be at it yet. There is a man now in New Orleans who has been placer prospecting for fully twenty-five years, and his case is a remarkable illustration of how the thing will enslave one, body and soul. He has prospected all over the West, from Montana to the Rio Grande; he spent a couple of years in the North Georgia fields; he has been in Australia and South Africa, and his latest stamping ground is Honduras. His plan is to keep at it until he gets stone broke. Then he goes to work for wages somewhere, and saves enough money to carry him through another season in the hills. At present he is engaged in one of his periodical 'stake raisings,' and being an expert mechanic is getting good pay at a machine shop, but he told me the other day that he was itching to start out again. Like every other prospector I ever knew, he believes firmly that he is at last on the verge of striking it rich and next year he expects to be in the lap of luxury. He is a man of unusual intelligence and excellent education, but he has spent the best part of his existence in a savage wilderness, away from everything that makes life desirable, and now he is crazy to get back. During all the years he has pursued the golden will-o'-the-wisp he has never averaged the wages of a common laborer, but he is still cheerful, sanguine and unembittered. They are all the same way. It must be the constant contract with nature that keeps them from becoming ferocious cynics."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

LET OAKLAND NOW MOVE AHEAD

Some Suggestions for the People to Bear in Mind.

How the City Can Gain by the Good Times.

By THE EDITOR.

What is the matter with the city of Oakland?

Are its people, businesswise, dead, or only asleep?

If asleep, when will they awake?

When, or where, was there ever a community that had so many inducements, natural and factitious, for immediate, concerted, intelligent, sustained action to the great common end of commercial advancement?

The recent developments of American history have placed Oakland in the vanguard of American cities. Oakland has been made the beneficiary of destiny. Oakland is the doorway to the Orient opened by the brilliant feat of ordnance and navigation performed by Dewey one year ago and commemorated by the whole nation yesterday.

Is Oakland alive to a realization of the significance of yesterday's national celebration—its significance to Oakland?

Wise men of the East perceive the bearing of the recent national development, of the access of a new national sentiment and spirit, upon California and the Pacific Coast—upon Oakland as holding the key to the situation for the development of Oriental commerce.

It needed no Lord Beresford from England and the Orient, no Whitelaw Reid from New York and fresh from the Paris Peace Commission, to come here to tell us what the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands, the acceptance of the Philippines at the hands of Providence, the construction of the Nicaragua Canal, after a cleansing of the political barnacles from the hull of Congress, portend and signify in the way of a re-alignment of the carrying trade, the commercial exchanges, the agricultural productiveness, the financial relations, the industrial energies of the American people. We have men here—not all of them men who are awake in San Francisco while they are asleep in Oakland—with scent as keen, with vision as far, with apprehension as large as those of any in the world.

Yet, lack we what?

Can it be that we lack, and fatally lack, the capacity for acting and acting together upon our sound and broad perceptions? Why is our centrifugal force so great? Why can we not, under so great incentives, pull together? What is the matter with Oakland?

The eyes of the nation are turned on Oakland—keen eyes, the eagle eyes of sagacious men of commerce all over the land and all over the world. Where the carcass is there the eagles will be gathered together. The flock is preparing to descend. Why stand the men of Oakland idle in the market place? To change the figure, do our men of business and affairs, in the words of Mayor Snow, mean to allow the driving business men of the world—from Chicago and Boston and New York and Amsterdam and London—to mount the box of Oakland's destiny and progress, seize the reins and appropriate the credit and the fruits of Oakland's inevitable expansion?

Oakland, there is every reason to believe, is on the threshold of an expansion as vast and as rapid as that which in the past third of a century has marked Chicago, as steady and unending as that which has always attended New York city. Will our citizens share in it by aiding it, or will they forfeit their precious birthright by refusing or neglecting to respond in fact and act to a condition which they freely acknowledge in theory?

It were idle to go into particulars. Our business men and moneyed citizens know better than anyone could tell them what they ought, what it is their privilege to do. They see the nation's great transcontinental railway lines—not one, not the Santa Fe alone, but groups or bunches of them—headed this way, hastening this way, hungrily and greedily looking toward the Pacific Coast for a share of its destined enormous development of trade and toward Oakland, the only direct land terminal between America and the Orient, as the destined seat of all manner of industrial enterprises.

The tide is rising, the flood is coming. Shall we float upon it or shall we be submerged by it? That depends on whether we are equipped and navigated vessels or barnacled hedges, living, intelligently controlled organism, or mere deadweight.

It is for Oakland merchants, manufacturers, capitalists, officials, citizens, to respond, not severally and apart, but collectively and as one in community of interest, to the questions and the suggestions presented here, presented by the inevitable facts in Oakland's pre-eminently auspicious situation and destiny.

DOES NOT OWN HYPNOTIC EYE

Dr. Anderson Is Not in Love With Mrs. Boscow.

Tells How He Washed Her Husband's Feet.

Dr. H. W. Anderson still maintains that the action of W. A. Boscow in having him arrested on a charge of practising medicine without a license was a piece of spite work.

"I was not only arrested," he said, "but was confined in an iron cell for three hours. It was Boscow's intention, I think, to have me kept in prison over Monday. He knew it would be a holiday and that it would be hard to get bondsmen. My friends, however, came to my rescue. In a few hours, bonds in the necessary amount were raised and I secured my liberty. I feel the disgrace keenly, and I think the action of Boscow was purely malicious. I had never harmed the man. I have given him medical treatment for months and have never charged him a cent for it. I am willing to prescribe for any of my friends if I can help them by so doing.

"This idea of my exercising a hypnotic influence over Mrs. Boscow is pure nonsense. I do not know anything about the science. I would not know how to begin to receive a hypnotic influence.

"The accusations which Boscow made against me when my wife and I were staying at his house cut me deeply. My wife, who is an invalid, has almost broken down under the insults which Boscow has heaped upon me.

"I am not the only man who has been accused by Boscow of having sought to alienate the affections of his wife. His treatment of Mrs. Boscow while we were staying at the house was of the worst kind. When Mrs. Boscow threatened to secure a divorce from her husband, my wife and I both advised her to try to get along with him for the sake of her children.

"The way this man has treated me is disgraceful. Why, I have spent hours bathing his feet with warm water and applying other remedies trying to get him well. This is the way he repays my kindness. When he made it unpleasant for us we took other lodgings and have not gone near his place since. That was over a year ago. Now I no not see what he can possibly mean by bringing these accusations against me. When the matter comes before the court I will show this man up in his true light. I will not stand to be bothered by him.

"I have not made it a business to practice medicine in this city, although I am a regularly licensed physician. I have been engaged as manager for various publications. I am at present getting out a program for the Golden Carnival. I am not in love with Mrs. Boscow. I do not own an hypnotic eye and never Svengalled a person in my life."

KEEPING GAMBLERS ON RUN.

Emeryville Trustees Will Make Keno Games Move On.

Ordinance to Be Passed by Trustees This Evening.

The passage of the anti-keno ordinance in this city has had the effect of closing up all the keno games which were running here.

Since then the keno men have been looking around for a place in which to carry on the game, which would be convenient enough to enable them to attract players from the city.

They decided upon Emeryville, and several of them have already opened up their games at that place.

This, however, is contrary to the spirit of the residents of that town, who have risen up against the invasion.

In deference to this sentiment on the part of the people of the town, the Trustees will meet tonight and pass an ordinance prohibiting the playing of keno within the limits of the town under a most severe penalty.

This action of the Trustees will compel the keno men to find a field of operations in some other place.

SITUATION IN SAMOA SERIOUS.

White People at the Mercy of the Rebels.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WELLINGTON, N. Z., May 2.—Advices from Samoa indicate that the instructions received from the powers to cease hostilities make the situation in the islands very serious, as the rebels hold the main food supplies and are again near the municipality of Apia.

The correspondent of Reuter's News Agency thinks it is evident that the home authorities have misunderstood the situation in Samoa. The Germans and rebels are already jubilant and claim a victory over the British and American forces. The correspondent says that unless the rebels are made to submit the difficulties will remain unsolved.

The white people in the outskirts of the city are at the mercy of the rebels. The American Vice-Consul's store at Fallfa was looted last week, while a German store adjoining it was left untouched.

British and American residents all strongly condemn the actions of the powers in bringing about a cessation of hostilities at this time.

Two days after the late battle at Vailima Lieutenant R. A. Gaunt of the British cruiser Porpoise marched his brigade in Vailima unopposed, and was followed by a company of British bluejackets under Captain Sturdee and Lieutenant Cave.

Inspection of the battlefield shows that the defense occupied by the rebels near the home of the late Robert Louis Stevenson were strong and well placed. The loss sustained by the rebels, it is evident, was much greater than was at first supposed.

The main section of Mataafa's followers who were engaged in the battle of Vailima retreated westward to Lulumonenga, where they lay in wait for friendlies. Orders had been given them to capture Lieutenant Gaunt's head. The rebels were also anxious to secure the superior weapons with which his brigade is armed.

It is rumored that thirteen boats filled with armed rebels are approaching from the east. The town appears to be safe.

SYMPATHY FOR THE SAMOANS.

Stevenson's Widow on the Barbarities of Bombardment.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

LONDON, May 2.—Robert Louis Stevenson's widow has written a letter to the Westminster Gazette from Funchal, Madeira, on the bombardment of Samoan villages by British and American warships. Mrs. Stevenson says:

"President McKinley allowed no firing on Cuban towns unless they gave active cause of offense, and Commodore Watson was ordered not to attack undefended Spanish cities. Does the President keep his humanity for civilized countries alone?"

Mrs. Stevenson declares that the Samoan villages are inhabited in time of war by non-combatants, who have to choose between the shells of the warships and "taking to the bush." Under such conditions, she says, delicate women can hardly exist, while children die like flies.

Mrs. Stevenson's letter concludes as follows:

"Chief Justice Chambers has been represented as saying in a letter to his brother: 'I never was happier.' He must be a person singularly devoid of imagination if he ever pictured to himself the scenes being enacted in the bombardment of those villages; the exodus of panic-stricken people rushing hither and thither; shells bursting everywhere, the cries of bedridden and hapless wounded people burning alive in their blazing houses; women in the pangs of childbirth; mangled children crawling on the sands blood before them and bush behind them. Then we read that the woods were also shelled. Who is responsible for those deeds that disgrace both the Islands and America?"

TRAFFIC IN POISON.

Government Inspection Needed to Condemn Whiskey That Is Bad as Well as to Approve That Which is Good.

It has often been observed by those who come from the mother country that it is a great pity that no governmental supervision is exercised over the keepers of saloons, so that they should be compelled to sell genuine and pure spirits.

We say, then let the Government appoint inspectors, whose duty it shall be to go into every saloon and test by scientific methods the liquors that are sold there.

It is true that the Government has set its seal of approval upon good whiskey, in recognising and taxing Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as a Medicine, but let it also seek out and punish those who sell poison under the name of whiskey.

Keep Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in the house and then you are sure of having that which the Government says is all right.

BLUE AND GRAY SIDE BY SIDE.

Annual Encampment of the G. A. R. at San Diego.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SAN DIEGO, May 2.—The annual parade of the G. A. R. Encampment for the camps of California and Nevada took place here today at 10:45 o'clock, under perfect conditions as to weather and decorations, and was a splendid display of patriotism and welcome to the veterans of the civil war.

The city is more elaborately decorated with bunting and triumphal arches than ever before. The parade was over a mile in length and was under a Confederate veteran Major as the Grand Marshal, while the boys of the blue and gray marched shoulder to shoulder in the ranks.

The military and civic display and the variety of ornamental floats were extensive and imposing, the regulars of the army post, the Naval Reserves, Company B, Seventh California, and numerous fraternal societies taking part. The new department officers will be elected at tomorrow's business. Captain A. F. Dill of this city is the leading candidate for Commander.

The Editor Was Converted.

He was a meek and patient little telegraph editor out in Denver, but sometimes he felt murderously inclined, as telegraph editors often do, says the Minneapolis Times. He had been left all alone in the office—city editor out shaking dice with his assistant and reporters all on their "runs" or assignments. Three A. P. wires and the usual specials were unloading copy on him. He was not so very mad about his own extra work, for that was not far out of the ordinary, but it made him mad to answer the telephone for the delinquent and (in his opinion) utterly worthless local department, and by the time he had entertained and taken notes for the usual early evening run of volunteer purveyors of information about their precious selves, he was ready for desperate deeds.

There came a calm, and he settled down to "catch up" when he suddenly became conscious of a presence in the room—three of them, in fact. They were neat-looking men of medium size, well and quietly dressed, as Western garb goes, and, with hats off, stood waiting for the man of telegraph to look up. Presently, and after due deliberation, he vouchsafed a glance and a grunt of interrogation. The stranger nearest the desk politely but quickly seized the opportunity and inquired:

"City editor?"

"Nope." (Pegging away at his copy.)

"Any reporters in?"

"Nope." (Still pegging away.)

"We have a little item I thought you might like for your paper."

"Better come in again later and see a reporter."

"Pardon me, but we can't wait; have to catch the 9:50 train East."

"Well," growled the man of wires "what's your item?" and he looked as if he would like to eat the quiet trio, "item" and all.

"Well, you see," said the neat man with the blue eyes and the mustache, "Luke Short he sends for us to come down to Dodge and help him straighten things out. You know, he's marshal down there, and the gang gives him hours to pull his freight. He 'lows he stays, and telegraphs us to come down and ride up and down the avenue and look at points of interest with him. Me? Why, my name's Masterson—Bat Masterson—maybe you've heard of me. And this is Mr. Holliday, Mr. Editor—'Doc' Holliday— and this is Mr. Collins—'Shotgun' Collins they used to nominate him down at Tombstone."

And by that time the erstwhile surly telegraph editor was the politest man in the room. He was breathing hard, but he was jollying the visitors for all he was worth. For verily Masterson had a record for something like twenty-four dead ones and three or four wounded, and Holliday was called 'Doc' because he had given up dentistry to become a peacemaker of the border type. He also had a dozen or so in the cemeteries of the West. Collins had earned the sobriquet "Shotgun" because his favorite weapon had once been a fowling piece of large caliber, but he had sawed off the barrels and carved the stock into a pistol butt. Loading both barrels with generous cargoes of hardware he could clean out a whole street with great economy of time and effect.

And that is why the surly telegraph editor became a very Chesterfield of politeness and insisted on sparing the time to purchase a stirrup cup for his distinguished visitors. It may be added that they went to Dodge and rode up and down the street, and they didn't find it necessary to "shoot anybody up," either.

FUSE COMPANY TO PAY DAMAGES

Held Responsible for Damages to Private Homes.

The Damage suit of Larsen against the California Fuse and Powder Co. will come up before Judge Ogden shortly for decision. The demurrer of the defendants has been overruled. This will necessitate a trial of the case on the facts.

This suit is but one of several that will be brought against the company should the case be won. The cause of action is the explosion at Melrose last summer, which resulted in the loss of six lives and the wrecking of homes within a radius of over a mile from the scene of the catastrophe. There was hardly a house that was not damaged to some extent. Many of the homes, which were completely wrecked, belonged to people who were not able to stand the loss.

The suit of Larsen was brought as a test case, to see whether the company could be held liable for the damage done. If it is successful, suits amounting to about $75,000 will be brought. It is contended by the plaintiff in the action that the magazines were a public nuisance. Reed & Nusbaumer represent Larsen in the action. They have practically won the case on demurrer, and now all that remains to be done is to fix the amount of damages.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Osgood Bros., Seventh and Broadway. Every bottle guaranteed.

BUSY MEETING OF THE COUNCIL

Matters to Be Discussed by the City Fathers.

A busy session of the City Council will be held tonight. Among the many other matters to be disposed of is the ordinance regulating the use of bicycles in the streets and prohibiting their use on the sidewalks within the city limits. As a fight was made in committee against the ordinance, it is reasonable to expect opposition to it in open council tonight. The law-abiding citizens who use the silent steed object to being made to suffer for the misdeeds of a few, and they will no doubt have a brilliant array of talent at tonight's meeting to make a final effort to have the present ordinance retained.

Another matter of importance is the resolution proposed by Mayor Snow fixing the minimum of wages to be paid street sprinklers and the maximum distance to be traveled by sprinklers each day. The resolution was favorably recommended by the committee and will no doubt be passed.

The resolution appropriating $399 from the park and Lakeshore fund for work on the boulevard retaining wall, which was recommended by the committee, will come up for passage.

The ordinances prepared by the City Attorney, at the request of the Council, prohibiting the exhibition of lewd pictures or the singing of ribald songs by any mechanical device will come up for passage to print.

Ordinances prohibiting the hanging of banners across the streets without the permission of the Board of Works and regulating the distribution and posting of advertising matter will all come up for the second reading.

There are a great many other matters of interest to the taxpayers to come up for consideration.

STATE CLAIMS UTE LANDS.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

DURANGO, Colo., May 2.—Registrar Chipley of the State Board of Land Commissioners arrived here this morning for the purpose of making a claim on behalf of the State of sections 16 and 36 of each township in the Ute reservation, which are claimed by the State under the school land grant.

This filing is made with a view to a contest. Land Commissioner Hermann has directed the Land Office to allow entries by homesteaders, miners and others to the sections in dispute, which aggregate over 50,000 acres.

While prospective settlers are traveling over the reservation, picking out the best lands, most of the Utes are suilenly removing their tepees west to their new reservation. A few of the Utes will remain on their allotments, which have been shrewdly chosen along the water courses, but most of the Indians will dispose of their property under lease at once, after the improvident manner of the present race, and join their fellowmen in the West.

JONES' UNDERSTUDY.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Before sailing for Europe today Senator Jones addressed the following letter to G. J. Johnson, National Committeeman for Kansas, directing him to act for the Democratic National Committee during the absence of the Chairman.

"Hon. G. J. Johnson Peabody, Kansas.—My Dear Sir: Being compelled by the condition of my health to go abroad for some months, and Mr. Walsh, Secretary of the committee being absent in Alaska, I take the liberty of requesting that you will act as secretary of the National Committee until Mr. Walsh's return. It is understood that you will give such attention to the matters of the National Committee and to the organization of the committee as in your discretion may be required.

"Very Respectfully,
"JAMES K. JONES, Chairman."

The Board of Education will hold a regular meeting at the City Hall this evening.

HER CASE IS A QUEER ONE.

Is Mrs. Montague-Yates a Spiritualistic Fraud.

Mme. Florence Montague-Yates of spiritualistic fame claims that she has been made a victim by her friends in this city. In a recent letter she says that despite her wishes her friends have secured her a divorce from her husband. She will return to this city shortly to inquire into the matter.

About a year ago Mme. Montague-Yates left this city, declaring that she was going to Montreal to be reunited with her husband, who held a responsible position with a Canadian railroad. A large number of spiritualists gathered at the station to wish her a bon voyage.

Previous to this time Mme. Montague-Yates had instituted divorce proceedings against her husband. This was done at the instance of her friends. Later she repented and decided to return to her spouse. It was with this intention that she left for Montreal. She met her husband there, and they became reconciled.

In the meantime her friends in this city had the divorce suit prosecuted. The result was that in a few weeks after her departure Mme. Montague-Yates was apprised of her legal separation. The cost of the litigation was paid by her solicitous friends.

Just what action the lady will take is uncertain. She will return to this city in about six weeks.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The following memorandum was given out for publication at the State Department today:

"The strained relations existing between the republics of Hayti and Santa Domingo, caused by a dispute over the boundary line between those two countries, is in a fair way of settlement. The whole question, with others involved, is to be referred to the Holy See, Pope Leo XIII, at Rome, to adjust. The statement that each country was massing troops on the frontier, is untrue."

TWO BANK ROBBERS ESCAPE

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NAPANEE, Ont., May 2.—George Pare and W. H. Holden, charged with the robbery of the Dominion Bank and who gave Queen's evidence against Bank Teller Holden of that bank, escaped from the jail during the night. At Holden's trial the jury disagreed, and both prisoners were held to repeat their evidence at their trial to be held here next week, after which their cases were to be heard.

The police were quickly notified of their escape, but it is thought they had accomplices on the outside and that both are now in the United States.

The bank was entered August 27, 1897, and $32,000 was stolen. Pare and Holden were arrested in Boston for complicity in the robbery and brought here for trial.

MEDICAL TESTIMONY IN THE BRANDES CASE.

The Pacific Medical Journal has the following comment in the medical testimony in the Brandes case:

"The expert medical testimony produced by the Brandes case, which has for so long been on trial in Oakland, has not increased the good reputation of the medical profession. Excellent physicians have disagreed on many points where there should be practical, if not absolute, harmony of opinion. The result is that the public, and even the profession, are forced to the conclusion that some of the experts are either incompetent or insincere. It is difficult to decide in such a case whether incompetency or insincerity is the greater evil, but in this instance, considering the prominence and acknowledged ability of many of the gentlemen concerned, it would seem that the position taken was one of prejudice, the result of being employed by, and hence in sympathy with, one or the other side.

"Such difficulties are not easy to avoid, particularly as long as there remains in vogue the present methods of employing medical experts. It would be better in either way, for the accused and for the people, for medical experts to be appointed by the court. These experts should not only be competent, but honorable, and as free from prejudice as the judge himself. In such cases the jury would have respect for the expert's testimony, regard for professional opinion would be enlarged and elevated, and justice would not so often miscarry.

"It could of course be argued that it would be unjust to exclude from the stand one on whose testimony would be favorable to the defense or to the prosecution, but such testimony is rarely regarded as other than prejudiced and insincere, and as such it neither influences the jury nor accomplishes the aims of justice."

Social obligations lead to the keeping of late hours. Dining is done at a time when the stomach should be at rest, and the food and drink are of a character so rich that digestive disorders are sure to follow. A brilliant and fashionable society woman of St. Louis recently said: "In consequence of late hours and late suppers I would often be possessed next day of that 'tired feeling' I have read so much about. Because I would not arise until late, my regular exercise was neglected, and I ate irregularly at home also. Eventually I developed a large sized case of indigestion, and, aside from the suffering it caused me, it rendered me, with my nervous temperament, exceedingly irritable. It was at my sister's suggestion that I tried Ripans Tabules, but they accomplished all I could have wished; and now, whenever I am feeling badly or have been irregular about my meals, I always take a Ripans and, as a result, I constantly enjoy the best of health."

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at many drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (100 tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

SPANISH FREE AN AMERICAN.

A Prisoner Released Through England's Good Offices.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 2.—A special to the Herald from Washington says:

Secretary Hay was formally notified today of the release by the Spanish garrison at Ponape, in the Caroline Islands, of a naturalized American citizen named Melinder, held as a prisoner of war since last summer.

Mr. Melinder is a merchant trading in the Carolines, and represents a San Francisco firm there. He avowed his American citizenship soon after the war began, and expressed sympathy for the Americans. He was arrested and held as a prisoner of war.

News travels slowly in the Carolines, and it was some time before the San Francisco firm heard of the imprisonment of its agent. It notified the State Department, and this Government requested the British Government to use its good offices to secure Melinder's release. The British Embassador to Spain presented the case to the Spanish Government, which a short time ago sent instructions to the Carolines directing the release of the American.

HOSTILE TO DR. BRIGGS.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 2.—It is stated that certain Episcopal clergymen who are opposed to the ordinance of Dr. Charles Briggs purpose to prefer charges of heresy against him, which will postpone the ordination until he shall have cleared himself. Dr. Briggs, who is a professor in Union Theological Seminary, convulsed the Presbyterian Church a few years ago by his writings, which were alleged to be unorthodox, and an effort was made to expel him from the church. Subsequently he withdrew from the Presbyterian Church and became an Episcopalian, taking deacon's orders. He has not modified his views, however. Bishop Potter is a zealous friend of Dr. Briggs, but some of the clergy of the diocese are intensely hostile to receiving him into the ministry.

A Minstrel's Sad Fate.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

ELGIN, Ill., May 2.—H. W. McAndrews, at one time one of the best known minstrels in the country and Haverly's "original watermelon man," has been committed to the insane hospital here. His mental condition resulted from a fall from a Chicago street car.

GEN. TORRES A SCAPEGOAT.

Uncle Sam Demands the Nicaraguan's Dismissal.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 2.—A special to the Herald from Washington says:

As a result of Torres' oppressive conduct toward American merchants trading at Bluefields, Nicaragua, this Government has determined to require the Nicaraguan Government to relieve him from duty at that point.

It is the understanding of the officials that a demand has already been submitted for the punishment of General Torres, and no doubt exists that the Zelaya Government, to show its friendship for the United States, will take proper action. It is proposed by the authorities to keep the Detroit at Bluefields to enforce respect and to provide protection to Americans until the controversy has been settled and there is a restoration of order. It is said by the officials that this can only be accomplished by the withdrawal of General Torres.

CHANGES IN THE NAVAL SERVICE.

Admiral Stewart Is Soon to Be Retired for Age.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 2.—A special to the Times from Washington says:

Paymaster General Stewart, U. S. N., has been informed by Assistant Secretary Allen of the intention of the Navy Department to retire him on May 6th for age. The communication also informed Admiral Stewart that he would go on the retired list under two sections of the personnel law, which assures him the rank and pay of a Rear Admiral. The assertion of the fact that Stewart is entitled to have the retired rank and pay of a Rear Admiral is interesting to the service, as indicating the adoption of the recent decision by the Controller of the meaning of the law.

At the same time that Paymaster General Stewart was notified of his approaching retirement Paymaster Minehler, who has been connected with the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts since 1889, or before Admiral Stewart took charge of it, and whose assistance and valuable suggestions for the service are cheerfully acknowledged by his chief, submitted his resignation from the navy. He will enter private business.

Paymaster Henry G. Colby, who has been assistant chief during the entire war period, and a most efficient and agreeable occupant of the office, has been promoted to be a Pay Inspector and Commander. He will have a new detail with his advancement, probably on board ship. The new Paymaster General, who will be Pay Director Albert S. Kenney, now at New York, will begin work with a staff nearly new to the office.

The Rev. Mr. Pratt was formerly assistant rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Chicago.

Superintendent May has notified the flock owners by telegraph.

DASTARD'S DEED STARTS A PANIC

Nitric Acid Thrown in a Buenos Ayres Theater.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 2.—A dispatch to the Herald from Buenos Ayres says:

During the performance at the San Martin Theater a bottle containing nitric acid and sulphur was thrown among the spectators. The bottle exploded without causing any damage. It started an incipient panic, but the excitement quickly subsided when it was found that nobody was hurt.

It is believed that the act was intended as a socialist demonstration to symbolize May day.

"AMERICANISM" A DEAD ISSUE.

Archbishop Corrigan's Letter Pleases the Pope.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Archbishop Corrigan's letter to the Pope, thanking him for his declaration against "Americanism," was answered immediately by the Cardinal Secretary of State, who expressed to the Archbishop the great satisfaction which it gave his holiness. The answer was received in New York within a month of the date of the sending of the Archbishop's letter.

Before sending the letter Archbishop Corrigan submitted a rough draft of the letter to the ten Bishops in the province of New York, and it is said to have been unanimously approved by them. As to the signing of the names of the other Bishops to the letter, that is an ordinary thing for the Metropolitan after consulting with his suffragans to write a letter in their name. This was done by Cardinal Gibbons at the last Plenary Council, when he wrote a letter to the Holy Father in the name of all the American Bishops, and Archbishop Chapelle of New Orleans but a few days ago wrote a letter to the Pope in the name of the Bishops of his province.

Some comment was made today upon the publication of a translation of the letter, on the fact that the Archbishop had given his imprimatur to Father Hecker's book and was now condemning it. Religious books are censored by a priest regularly assigned to this work, who reads them for the purpose of finding out whether there is anything against morals or the dogma in them. If he finds nothing against them he places a stamp upon the books, signifying that is so. The Archbishop simply stamps the word "Imprimatur"—it may be printed—upon the books. This is not considered a commendation of any work. In the case of the writing of a book by a member of a religious order the custom of the Roman Catholic Church is that the censoring is left to the superior of the order, and the Archbishop gives his "imprimatur" without further examination as a matter of courtesy. This is the rule which was applied in the case of Father Elliott's "Life of Father Hecker."

"HOT OLD TIME," GREAT SUCCESS.

"After the War" Makes a Hit at the Dewey.

The performance of the piece, "A Hot Old Time" at the Macdonough Theater last night, realized all that the people had been led to expect from it. It was as warm and exhilarating a production of its kind as has ever been presented on the local boards. It is of the farce-comedy order, a species of entertainment which is now far from being so plentiful as it was some years ago. It has, however, the advantage of having been written up-to-date, the new features being introduced in such a manner as not to interfere with the continuity of the story. The play was designed to create merriment and succeeds in a remarkable manner. There is not a dull moment from the time the principal actors appear before the lights until the last drop of the curtain. The stars, Johnny and Emma Ray, are not only bright, witty, funny and irresistible, but the same may, to a great extent, be said of the auxiliary performers. It happens only too frequently that in productions of this kind, the stars are the only performers in the piece. Such, however, is not the case with "A Hot Old Time." The Rays know that the public has no use for one or two-part plays. They also know that it is to their advantage to have as many favorites as possible in the cast. They know, still further, that they are favorites with the people, that they can always bring down the house and they have, therefore, every incentive, which is not the case with other performers, to surround themselves with the most competent company which they can gather together.

The effect of this idea was noticeable last night. Whether in the unfolding of the tale or in the specialties, there was nothing done that did not carry the house by storm. Encores were in demand.

Of the Rays it may be said that they more than maintained their former reputation as entertainers. They sang, joked, danced, grimaced and the audience at all times wanted more.

At intervals during the piece, catchy songs which had the flavor of the new tunes and new sentiments were sung, among them being "The Hero of the Football Game," "Are You Done Mr. Dunn?" "I Guess I'll See His Finish Pretty Soon," "The Wild and Woolly West," "I Guess I'll Have to Telegraph My Baby," "Take My Uniform to Mother."

Besides, there was an immense amount of specialties of a high-class order by Genaro and Bailey, Delph and Susie Lavino, and other members of the company, concluding in a cake-walk which has has never been approached in statelliness on the Macdonough stage.

The crayon sketch act of Dolph and Susie Levino was a novelty in that it introduced a vocal musical accompaniment by Susie Levino to the crayon work of Dolph Levino. While the latter drew the likenesses, Susie sang pretty verses descriptive of the peculiarities of the subjects whose counterfeit presentiments were etched upon the frame. The ease, rapidity and accuracy with which these pictures were made, the appropriateness of the accompanying verses, and the knowledge of public spirit displayed in the selection of the subjects, made this one of the most entertaining features of the evening. Among the subjects were Dewey the Hero of the day and the reception the great admiral received was long continued and enthusiastic. Hon. W. W. Foote, the distinguished attorney was also drawn upon the frame and his well known features, so full of geniality and, at the same time of character were received with rounds of applause. Levino is the greatest sketch artist on the American stage. In fact he is a wonder. The same piece will be produced tonight and there will be the same attractions to reward a large audience which the piece will undoubtedly draw.

AT THE DEWEY.

At the Dewey Theater, there was a large house and an enthusiastic audience last night, to witness the first performance of the great play, "After the War." The selection was a most appropriate one because, in a measure, it recalled the late struggle with Spain the first move in which was the annihilation of the Spanish fleet at Manila by the great commander after whom the theater was named.

The people in the audience seemed imbued with the speech of patriotism which had prevailed in all circles during the day the first anniversary of the destruction of Montijo's fleet and applauded all the exalted sentiments in which the play abounds.

"After the War" is a melodrama to which a synopsis of the story could not do justice. It must be seen to be appreciated. It is of the martial order with a judicious intermingling of sentimental, pathetic and humorous situations. It is well played by the Grand Stock Company and will draw large houses until the close of the engagement next Sunday night.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—President McKinley and party returned to Washington this morning, reaching the White House at 7:40 o'clock. There were in the party only President and Mrs. McKinley, Secretary Cortelyou and the members of the White House who accompanied the President throughout the trip.

The President's first act on returning was to call on Vice President Hobart. He was returning alone and on foot just as a corporal and five enlisted men of the 161st Indiana Volunteers were leaving the White House.

He stopped and shook hands with each of them, saying a few words of welcome, and passed on. The President found Mr. Hobart improved and gaining strength.

Last night's session was devoted to the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the Concordia Theological Seminary. The synod will probably not adjourn before Sunday.

TOBACCO MEN TO COMBINE

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—As an indirect outcome of the arrest of William Jacobs and his co-conspirators in the revenue stamp counterfeiting case, a meeting will be held by the cigar leaf tobacco trade in this city on May 22d to form a permanent national organization of cigar leaf dealers. It is proposed to formulate a plan which will enable the trade to protect itself. The Government was a great sufferer by Jacobs' swindling, but the cigar leaf dealers and the manufacturers generally lost a great deal more.

Jacobs' cutting of prices upset the whole cigar business, even back to the dealer in leaf tobacco.

NEGRO TROOPS FOR WARDNER.

Idaho's Auditor Says the Sheriff Will Be Impeached.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SPOKANE, Wash., May 1.—The company of colored regulars stationed at Spokane army post received orders late tonight direct from General Merriam to leave on the morning train for Wardner, Idaho. The company at Fort Walla Walla has received similar orders.

Bartlet Sinclar, Auditor of Idaho, in an interview with the Spokesman-Review correspondent at Wardner tonight, said: "The conditions here are far worse than I could possibly imagine. The Prosecuting Attorney and Sheriff here have been shamefully remiss in their duty. I told them so today. They will be probably impeached. Existing conditions here must cease. The State authorities, aided by Federal troops, will see to it."

CIRCUS WAS A MONEY MAKER.

Berkeley Boys Cleaned Up Five Hundred Dollars.

BERKELEY, May 2.—The first University circus was an unqualified success, and its promoters are in high good humor over the affair. After paying all expenses there will be about $500 to turn into the students' treasury. The crowd was a big one, and no one went away complaining that he did not get his money's worth. There was a larger crowd present at the circus than attended the intercollegiate field day. Pete Kaarsburg's troop of mounted Indians led the parade at 2 o'clock, the clowns, the burro and the goat bringing up the rear. The ferocious red men kept up a terrifying fusillade with blank cartridges until the procession entered the campus. There were enough professionals on the program to keep the interest of the crowd from flagging, though the amateurs did excellent work. The ring program began with a clever act on the bounding rope by El Nido Eddie, the hero of Niagara Falls. This was followed by the appearance in the ring of the twenty college clowns, who capered nimbly to the lascivious pleasing of Ringmaster Cheesebrough's whip. The dancing bear and the butting goat enlivened things still more, and after a harlequin song by the clowns the twelve leapers, made up of athletes from the Reliance, Acme and Olympic clubs and the University, entertained the crowd with their clever performance in tumbling and tumbling. The side show features attracted many spectators. The Stanford ax was on view in a tent, with a heavy guard of University cadets to protect it from a possible Stanford raid. A concert by the band, magic by Hirschfeldt, contortion by Tint and a monologue by Harris completed the performance.

Prof. C. L. Cory of the University gave an illustrated lecture last night at the San Francisco Academy of Sciences. The subject of the lecture was the electrical energy of Niagara, which has been developed by the Cataract Construction Company with a plant of 50,000 horse power. Prof. Cory said that there was a great field in California for the development of electrical energy.

ALAMEDA NEWS.

ALAMEDA, May 2.—Alameda is to have a new Health Officer. Dr. McLean, who has held the office for twelve years, has been slated for dismissal by the Board of Health. The Board consists of Drs. Reynolds, Ball, W. O. Smith, Stidham and Lubbock. It is announced that Ball and Reynolds will decline to serve and will present their resignations at a meeting called for next Friday night. Dr. Morris W. Brown, who has acted as Health Officer during Dr. McLean's absence in Washington in the interest of the tidal canal project, is being urged for the position by his friends. If he does not desire the office it will probably go to a member of the Health Board. During the first two years of Dr. McLean's incumbency he received but $25 a month. The salary was then raised to $50 a month, and subsequently to $75. Dr. McLean's friends claim that through his devotion to the duties of the office his practice has suffered and that he should be retained.

Alameda's moral tone must be improving, judging from the April report of City Marshal Conrad, which shows fewer arrests than for any month during the past fifteen years. The report is as follows: Petty larceny, 2; malicious mischief, 1; disturbing the peace, 4; drunk, 2; vagrancy, 4; violating city ordinances, 1; insanity, 1. Total, 15.

GREATEST TRUST YET ORGANIZED.

Colossal Combination of Steel Interests Forming.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The Times says: The rumors of an immense combination of steel interests are practically confirmed by John W. Gates, president of the American Steel and Wire Company, who returned from a European trip on Saturday. The combination, unless the present plans of the promoters are changed, will include practically all the big concerns of the country and will have a capitalization of between $500,000,000 and $800,000,000. The proposed combination is yet far from complete in point of detail, but the presence in this city of the representatives of the greatest interests of the United States led Mr. Gates to say that in all probability the next few days will see it whipped into tangible shape.

"As I have just returned from abroad," Mr. Gates explained, "I cannot go into details in this matter, but it is pretty safe to say that the combination will go through and that its capital will be nearly $800,000,000. About all the big companies may come in, the principal ones of which will be the Carnegie Company, the National Steel Company, the American Steel and Wire Company and probably the bar steel interests as represented by the Republican Steel Company."

Mr. Gates was asked if the Federal Steel Company would be included.

"I am not prepared to say as to that," was the reply. "I am going to have a talk with Mr. Gary tomorrow, and with Mr. Fricke and others who are in the city. I see that Colonel French of the Sylvan Steel Company of Illinois is here, and also Myron Wick of Youngstown and P. L. Kimball of Sharon, Pa. As a matter of fact, the town is full of iron and steel men, and it is very likely that you will hear of something important being done within the next few days."

As an evidence of the rise in prices consequent upon the rush of business, Mr. Gates told of an order placed here by the Russian government last October for 90,000 tons of steel rails. It was agreed that the price should be $18 or $18.50 but the Russian government tacked on certain specifications, one of which was that the steel should not contain more than one-tenth of 1 per cent of arsenic. The company rejected the proposals, and after vainly trying in the markets of Europe at an advanced price, the order was again offered to the American concerns with the objectionable clause eliminated, but was refused at an advance of $11.

"Now the Russian government," said Mr. Gates, "is between the devil and the iron works. It wants the rails for the Trans-Siberian road and cannot get them in Europe or America without waiting months."
